Dedication

We all have ideals,—sometimes they don't materialize, they just remain dreams that can easily be broken; however, through the determination of a few, our dream came true and we, the class of 1952, dedicate the Harmonizer to the new Harmony Joint High School.

Vocational Agriculture

The aim of vocational agriculture is to prepare rural boys for the vocation of farming and to enrich the secondary school curriculum so as to better serve those engaged in this occupation. The vocational agriculture course was added to our high school curriculum in 1950.

The instruction in vocational agriculture consists of both classroom work, as well as work in farm mechanics. Much of the instruction in vocational agriculture is given on the home farms of the boys enrolled in the course. In this respect, this course differs from all other courses offered in our high school.

The Future Farmers of America, the national organization of farm boys studying vocational agriculture, is an integral part of the program of vocational education in the public schools. The activities in which the members participate develop agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship. The ideals of a democratic society are cherished and promoted by farm boys who, working together with mutual goals, build a faith in themselves as farmers, a faith in farming as a way of life, and a faith that other farmers will share the responsibilities in striving toward the broader horizons of American rural life.

Some of the activities of the Harmony Chapter of Future Farmers of America this year were: skating parties, trip to the State Farm Show, selling seeds, selling magazines, Father and Son Banquet, building a display for the County Fair and sending delegates to compete in F. F. A. Activities Week at the Pennsylvania State College.
